BIG CORPORATION USEFUL.
THEY DRINK AND TELL.
ON CRIME'S HIGHWAY.

By Arthur Brisbane
(Copyright 1930 By King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

THE General Electric Co. has perfected a device to transport electric power over longer distances at less expense. The invention, called a "Thyatron," is described as a modified vacuum tube, adapted to power transmission uses.

SOME DAY SCIENCE will "hook up" the world's great power stations of North America, Niagara, those in the Rocky mountains, on the Columbia river, Brazil, with other great stations in Africa and all over the world, as radio stations are now hooked up.

Then will come wireless transmission of power, so that airplanes will be able to "pick up power" at various points in their journey, instead of carrying tons of fuel.

The research work done by such institutions as General Electric, United Steel, Westinghouse, Standard Oil, etc., will give back to the public in increased prosperity, a hundred dollars for every one that those big corporations have ever received.

A "big business man," Mr. Murphy, of New York, says he doesn't know any big business that doesn't drink. He, himself, drinks.

A COMMITTEE in New York's big Republican club, including the president of Columbia college, demands a vote on prohibition. They say in substance, "we all drink, why not say so, like men?"

WHEN YOU HAVE a law and a constitutional amendment openly flouted by 90 per cent of the powerful men in the country, there is something wrong with the law, or something wrong with the powerful men. This country is traveling rapidly on the road that leads to thoroughly organized crime and complete contempt for law.

A United States grand jury reports that officials supposed to suppress the sale of drugs are organized on a "racket" basis, misrepresenting their activities to get more money from the government.

Some of them are alleged to be narcotic addicts. The charge is made that the big men in the business can "buy their way out" if they get in trouble.

In the seven months past, criminals and others have purchased three times as many pistols as were sold altogether in the 12 months of 1928. A big demand for killing machinery.

THE AMERICAN Jewish congress yesterday joined with the pope, British bishops of the Anglican church and others, demanding that Russia cease persecuting religion.

FREED MAN TO ASK DAMAGES

Was Falsely Identified As Bandit Who Robbed Merchant; Other Confesses To Crime

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—An echo of the famous case of Jimmy Valentine, 21-year-old convicted bandit, who was sentenced to 19 years imprisonment in the Ohio state penitentiary, had been heard today by a damage suit which was filed in the Franklin county pleas court.

The suit was filed by Howard Minic, who was allegedly identified as Valentine, the "leather bag bandit," by Louis L. Alexander, proprietor of a restaurant, Minic asks for $17,000 damages.

Minic charges that Alexander misled him out as the bandit who had up and robbed his restaurant. Minic was held by police for a time, until it was shown that he was not the notorious "leather bag kid." He was released when Valentine admitted a long series of robberies and hold-ups, and his many victims identified him and failed to recognize Minic.

Columbiana County Youth Makes Escape

William Nuzum, 20, of Elkton, effected his escape from the Sandusky honor camp of the Ohio State reformatory system where he was serving a sentence of one to seven years on a larceny charge, Tuesday afternoon, reports sent by state officials to Sheriff W. J. Barlow stated today.

Nuzum, sent to the state prison after he pleaded guilty to a larceny charge in Lisbon last June, escaped from the Sandusky camp with John W. Florek of Toledo.

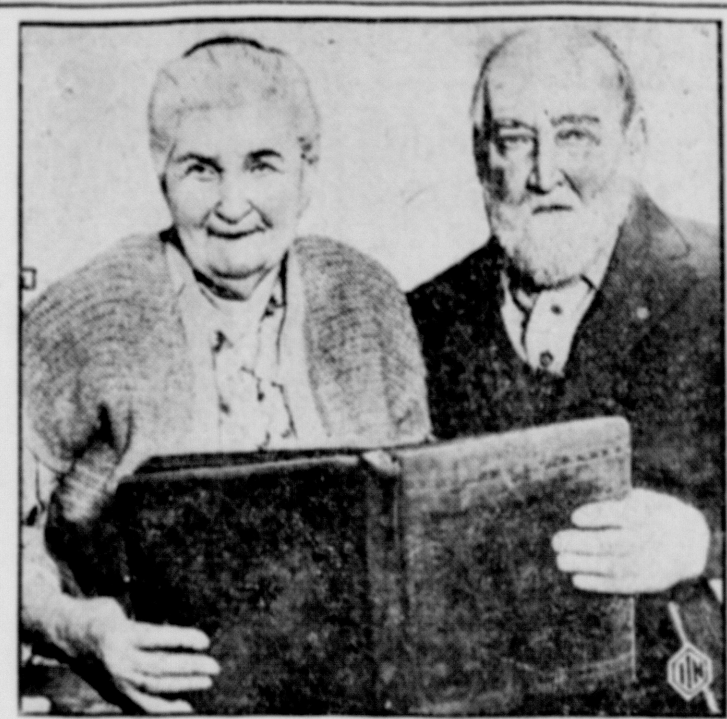

County authorities were requested to conduct extensive investigations in order to determine whether the escaped youth returned to his home in Elkton.

COAL INDUSTRY MAY BENEFIT BY PRESENT STRIKE

Competition Level Will Come With Tie-up, Observers Say

BELLAIRE, O., Feb. 21.—Mine strikes, such as that at Powhatan near here, where Ohio's largest mine is idle, will prove beneficial to the Ohio coal industry if they continue. This was the announcement which had been made here today by observers of the mining industry's "fight for its life."

The Powhatan mine recently put into effect a 10-per-cent wage increase, the goal in eastern Ohio's long-continued strike, which began in 1914 and continued until May, 1915.

By this recent cut, the Powhatan Mining company is able to undersell other companies which pay higher wages, the maximum being the $5 daily rate, which was fixed when the open-shop policy was adopted two years ago. Companies which are still paying employees the maximum, are being undersold by concerns which did not stock to the agreement.

Owners of the higher-wage mines will therefore benefit if the low-wage miners continue their strikes, as the wage-cutting companies will not be in a position to cut the price of coal to below the cost which high-wage companies pay to produce the fuel, and the latter will thus be enabled to get more business. The aim of those who are sponsoring the Powhatan tie-up is to extend the strike to other low wage mines.

The 20 persons who have been accused of causing trouble at Powhatan recently, will be given preliminary hearings at St. Clairsville Tuesday.

The men and women are still in jail, the National Miners' union being without funds with which to provide the $500 bond which was fixed in most of the cases.

HUSBAND SLAYS WIFE, COMPANION

Orally Rebukes Couple Then Fires Fatal Shots; Held By Police In Western City

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 21.—August Gingell, 37, former resident of Washington, today shot and killed his wife, Mrs. Vera Gingell, and Sigurd Bjorneby, 36, whom he claimed to have found in his wife's bedroom.

When police arrived they said they found both victims in scanty attire. Mrs. Gingell rented the apartment yesterday, detectives learned, and was assisted by Bjorneby.

Gingell, who surrendered after the shooting, said he made his wife and her alleged lover stand at the foot of the bed, orally condemned them and then shot them to death. He had been estranged from his wife for several weeks.

Police Continue To Search For Burglars

Police today are continuing investigations into entrance of burglars into four Salem residences sometime Wednesday night or early Thursday morning. No additional attempts at burglary were reported today. Fears that an epidemic of petty robberies was about to spread through the city were somewhat eliminated as a result.

All four of the burglary cases occurring here yesterday are believed to have been committed by the same person or persons.

LEGION PRESENTATION PLEASES AUDIENCE IN FIRST SHOWING HERE

"A Trip To Paris" Well Received; Will Be Staged Again Tonight at Grand Theater; Musical Numbers Are Outstanding

With instrumental and vocal music featuring, the American Legion comedy "A Trip To Paris" was a distinct surprise to Salem theatergoers when the play was first presented at the Grand theater Thursday night. It will be staged again tonight.

While there is little plot to the affair, it is based on the Legion's trip to the convention in Paris. The scene is set aboard a ship and comedy crops out memorably.

Instrumental numbers were exceptionally pleasing to the audience. John Wolford and Robert Buckhold presented a pleasing novelty with steel guitars. They impersonated the Brown sisters.

Homer Ritchie and his accordion drew numerous curtain calls. A specialty by John L. Hundertmark, Jr., entertained between the acts.

Everett Ritchie and Gus Sechler reviewed the sixth and seventh round of the Tunney-Dempsey fight at Chicago in a ludicrous manner. High school boys appeared in the role of ballet girls.

The play, presented for the benefit of the Legion boys' drum corps will make its final appearance tonight. Legion officials announce that.

ARIZONA WOMAN DIES FOR CRIME

Gallows Claims Life of Slayer of Aged Man; Calm To End

FLORENCE, ARIZ., Feb. 21.—Eve Duggan went to her death early today an example of supreme calmness, in the face of the fate decreed by society for a brutal murder of a helpless old man invalid.

The strapping housekeeper who killed her rancher employer, A. J. Mathis at his Tucson ranch three years ago, died "like a man" on the gallows, the first woman of whom Arizona has ever executed the supreme penalty.

Mrs. Duggan's iron nerve supported her during her last night on earth, lending a grim calm to her rugged features.

That she could have cheated the form of death the law decreed was demonstrated when she turned over to her guards early this morning a safety razor blade and a bottle presumed to contain poison.

Two women were with Mrs. Duggan in the death cell. Addressing them, the condemned woman asked: "Well, what do you think about it? Would you wait for the rope?"

Thereupon Mrs. Duggan delivered the bottle and the razor blade.

Mrs. Duggan was awake all night. She appeared to the 50 newspapermen who called at her cell to be standing up very well.

As she started the walk to the execution chamber, supported by a guard walking on either hand, Mrs. Duggan's smile was a little wry, but she did not falter.

During the solemn march, the woman recited a bit of doggerel: "We come into this world all naked and bare. Where we are going, the Lord only knows where. 'If we are good fellows here, we'll be good fellows there'."

Date of the trial was not announced. They are charged with the death of Thomas Carney, of Alexandria, Ind., and Esther Masters of Connersville, Ind.

Mabel Willebrandt Fined In Court

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Mrs. Mabel Walker Willebrandt, for some years the nemesis of prohibition law violators, paid a $10 fine in traffic court here today for speeding.

A traffic officer testified that he clocked her car at 38 miles an hour on K at a few days ago.

Mrs. Willebrandt paid her fine and quickly left the court room, pursued by a small army of news photographers, anxious to get a picture of the former assistant attorney general in the role of the prosecuted instead of the prosecutor.

SANDUSKY HAS $50,000 BLAZE

Guests In Nearby Hotels Sleep Peacefully As Fire Rages In Building

SANDUSKY, O., Feb. 21.—Fire gutted the Odd Fellows temple here today causing damages estimated at more than $50,000.

The temple is sandwiched between two hotels. Guests of the two hotels, however, slept peacefully unaware of the blaze while firemen battled for two hours in extinguishing the flames.

A considerable portion of the damage to the temple was done by smoke and water. Lodge and club rooms, a dance hall on the third floor and offices and business establishments in the building were seriously damaged.

An investigation has been started to determine the cause of the blaze.

STORY CHANGES AGAIN WHEN HE ADMITS MURDER

Now Claims he Alone Was Responsible For All Of Tragedy

GRILLING STARTS ALL OVER AGAIN

Officials Silent As To Other Changes In "Confession"

WOOSTER, O., Feb. 21.—Following another grilling to which Charles Hannah was subjected here today, the confessed slayer of young Melvin Horst gave Wayne county authorities another "confession," absolving Tony LaFacia and Charles Treska, from any participation in the brutal killing of the Orrville boy.

Hannah reiterated his admission of slaying Melvin.

Hannah told investigators that he alone was responsible for Melvin's death.

The officials refused to divulge any further revelations which the 61-year-old killer may have made. They stated they would continue with an intensive grilling of Hannah until they were satisfied he had made "a clean breast of everything" and had divulged the true information as to what disposal was made of Melvin Horst's remains.

Officials immediately began, with renewed effort, to question the confessed boy-killer regarding what disposition was made of the lad's body.

In his confession today, Hannah declared he did not even know LaFacia and Treska, stating that part of his previous official admission, claiming LaFacia and Treska had planned the murder at Akron, was false.

WOOSTER, Feb. 21.—Though he had signed a lengthy written statement admitting he killed four-year-old Melvin Horst at Orrville nearly 14 months ago, Charles Hannah was still being questioned by authorities here today.

The confessed slayer contended he did not know what final disposition was made of the body, and he is being further grilled on the supposition that he did not tell all he knew.

Hannah's confession declared that he turned the body over to Tony LaFacia and Charles Treska. Both men have been taken into custody and are also being grilled.

Only minor charges, so far, have been entered in the case of Junior Hannah, 10-year-old son of Charles Hannah, who told five different versions of the disappearance of his father, who admitted "framing" the son, has been charged with contributing to his son's delinquency. Junior was ordered held in the county children's home.

Claims Son Was Told Hannah confessed that he told his son about the killing, and instructed him what to say in the event, he should be questioned. He told him to place the blame for the killing upon Arthur Arnold, whom Hannah implicated in the arrangements which had been made for the contemplated slaying. In his confession, Hannah declared Arnold arrived at the scene after the boy had been brutally battered over the head.

Officials stated today they were uncertain what action, if any, will (Continued on Page 3)

A NEW KEYNOTE

The London naval conference has taken on a new aspect within the past few days. "Reduction," formerly the keynote of the parity, has been supplanted to a considerable degree by "understanding." Without the latter "reduction" would have been meaningless in every sense.

The French demands, which will probably be maintained by that nation's next government, are high and if accepted will take away the last aspect of reduction. Calling for 724,479 tons, a figure which is duplicated in Italy's demands. Great Britain will be forced to set her figure at 1,448,000 in order to maintain the two-power standard to which she has committed herself.

The United States, of course, demands parity with Great Britain. So far as this country is concerned the chief obstacle at present is Japan's desire to bring its cruiser and other auxiliary tonnage above the 5.5-3 ratio. The fourteen 10,000-ton eight-inch gun cruisers included in their demands would establish a ratio with this country of 7.7-10 and with Great Britain of 9.3-10. These unusual demands can only be prompted by Japanese belief that Great Britain and the United States are so anxious to reach parity that they will grant lavish concessions to the other powers.

Viewed objectively, the most valuable thing the United States can get out of the conference is understanding with Great Britain. That goal seems to have been pretty definitely secured at the present time and prospects of a contented Anglo-American partnership are bright. Compared to that, the demands of France and Italy regarding their position relative to Great Britain and the demand of Japan relative to the United States are of secondary importance.

It is, perhaps, not the most idealistic argument in the world to use, but it is the most powerful: the United States can afford better than those powers seeking larger navies to compete with them in their own game. The Japanese taxpayer, the French taxpayer, the Italian taxpayer—all are interested in their share of the expense of naval armaments and their interest is more closely allied to their purses than that of the American.

The United States stands committed to reduction if it can be accomplished without unfairness. Failing that end, it stands committed to agreement and understanding, regardless of reduction. An adequate measuring standard assures those attitudes with Great Britain. The other powers will find this nation as ready to agree with them, despite the well-known fact that economic advantages have placed us in a superior position.

Conscience-stricken, a New Jersey woman this week advertised a gold and diamond stickpin found by her twenty-five years ago. Evidently that woman's conscience is not one of the hair-trigger variety.

What Others Say

VAUDEVILLE IN THE SENATE

The description of Senator Brookhart's latest prohibition effort as a "bedtime story" was unwelcome. A bedtime story carries a suggestion of finality. The promise in Senator Brookhart's "revelation" is that a continuity, which associates rather with vaudeville entertainments; and the time of his most recent "act" was about what he would look for on the small-time circuit.

The junior senator from Wisconsin was more fortunate in his point of attack, when he charged the senior senator from Iowa with violating the law by advertising "where good liquor could be procured." Senator Brookhart promptly wrapped himself in his constitutional immunity. While he may not be questioned in any other place for what he says on the floor of the senate, a senator may be reprimanded and punished by his own colleagues. The complacency with which they tolerate wild and irresponsible statements in their midst and the child's refuge certain senators take behind the skirts of the constitution make them parties to this abuse of privilege.

Well meaning as they may be, Senator Brookhart and a handful of his equally windy colleagues are doing more than the senate a disservice. All their buffoonery reflects directly on prohibition and makes the enforcement of it more difficult. Whatever one may think of the merits of prohibition, a public question has been raised by it that interests more people in this country today than any other question; and for that reason it should be approached with dignity and obvious sincerity. The levity which has come to mark the discussion of it in both houses of congress can not fail to have serious repercussions among the people at large. The spectacle of senators and representatives making a joke of a subject upon which they are laying down the law for others to obey is not likely to increase the respect of the citizenry for the laws they enact.—Detroit Free Press.

The Stars Say—

Saturday, Feb. 22

Conflicting planetary configurations mark this day for perplexities and complications. While new undertakings may react to high stimulation yet there may be angles of discord, unwelcome fluctuations and loss, calling for keen acumen and restrained behavior.

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a year of fine impetus in launching new projects, but there may be frustrations and friction unless resolution, sagacity and cool actions obtain. A child born on this day may have unusual talents which should be enhanced by good training and firm discipline.

Guarding Your Health

CHILD'S RIGHT TO HEALTH

Every child has the right to good health, education and happiness. More and more we are coming to recognize this.

In the past twenty-five years much has been done to promote child welfare and health. This might be called "the children's age." Never were so many forces at work for the betterment of the child. Unprecedented efforts are made to study his intricate problems, to better his environment, to improve his education and physical health.

Public health officials, together with various welfare institutions, have labored for better living conditions for the child. Public-spirited citizens have given unstinted of time and money in his behalf. And yet we have child labor with us.

In America today 2,000,000 children are gainfully employed. Strange to say, there are just that many adults, too, who are out of employment. In short so many children work that adults are on the street. The American public must awaken to a realization that thousands, no millions, of little children, and children of adolescent age, are being exploited for money, and society now and hereafter must suffer in consequence.

Now, we know—all the medical men will tell you—that child labor brings with it a vast deal of misery, poor health, and death. In the last analysis it is uneconomic.

The National Child Labor committee recently made a report of some of the health hazards among children in industry—things which make us pause and think. I quote from this report:

"In a study of the causes of death among children, we find that if we compare the mortality between those from 10 to 15 years with those of from 15 to 20 years, there is a sudden jump of tuberculosis from fourth place to first. This is particularly true in the case of girls, in which, in the age period of 15 to 20, tuberculosis accounts for near one-third of the deaths."

"But our figures reveal still more. In the age period between 10 and 15 years, diseases of the heart and the circulatory system lead the causes of death and even in the next five-year period, from 15 to 20, they rank second only to tuberculosis. These figures reflect the infections in early life, and they indicate the great importance of supervising the health of children and adolescents leaving school to enter gainful employment."

Doctors all agree that a child needs a certain amount of outdoor recreation and rest every day. At least five hours are devoted to school tasks, and then very often home work is demanded. These are the years when the child is growing and building up his body for later years. It is a period of growth when the foundation of future health is laid. The American public must awaken to a realization that thousands, no millions, of little children, and children of adolescent age, are being exploited for money, and society now and hereafter must suffer in consequence.

The National Child Labor committee recently made a report of some of the health hazards among children in industry—things which make us pause and think. I quote from this report:

"In a study of the causes of death among children, we find that if we compare the mortality between those from 10 to 15 years with those of from 15 to 20 years, there is a sudden jump of tuberculosis from fourth place to first. This is particularly true in the case of girls, in which, in the age period of 15 to 20, tuberculosis accounts for near one-third of the deaths."

"But our figures reveal still more. In the age period between 10 and 15 years, diseases of the heart and the circulatory system lead the causes of death and even in the next five-year period, from 15 to 20, they rank second only to tuberculosis. These figures reflect the infections in early life, and they indicate the great importance of supervising the health of children and adolescents leaving school to enter gainful employment."

15 to 20, they rank second only to tuberculosis. These figures reflect the infections in early life, and they indicate the great importance of supervising the health of children and adolescents leaving school to enter gainful employment."

Collegian Loses 5 Room-Mates to Cupid

PAYETTEVILLE, ARK., Feb. 21.—As an aide-de-camp to Mayor Daniel Cupid, Max Bishop, student of the University of Arkansas here, is battling a thousand per cent.

Since Bishop took up residence at the Kappa Alpha house four room-mates in rapid succession have deserted him to take part in an "I do" ceremony with some fair coed.

When Bishop was a freshman and inexperienced in the ways of college life, Boswell McMillan, of Arkadelphia, his newly found roommate up and departed one cold December night.

In rapid succession his succeeding room-mates, William A. Hoxes, of Little Rock; Eugene Warren, of Forest City, and Marold H. Hodges, of Fort Smith, made trips to the altar.

Now Bishop is looking for roommate No. 5.

LONDON MEETING MAY FLARE HERE

Diplomats Fear Congress
Will Discuss Results
Of Conferences

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—A distinct note of pessimism over the prospective accomplishments of the London naval conference has developed in Washington this week. It has grown to such proportions that administration leaders were somewhat worried today over the possibility that the situation may be given a critical airing in congress, which would be embarrassing for the administration as well as for the American delegates.

The enforced recess of the conference due to the French ministerial upset, the new practical certainty that the conference cannot accomplish any material naval reduction, and the persistent demand of the French for a treaty of security, have combined to make congress exceedingly pessimistic concerning the whole project at London.

It is because of fear of "stirring things up" on capital hill that the administration will refrain at this time from asking congress for additional appropriations for the American delegation, notwithstanding that the initial appropriation of $200,000 is about exhausted, and the delegation is about "broke."

Notwithstanding efforts of administration leaders to soft-pedal public discussion of the developments at London, various members of congress have begun to air opinions about them. Thus far they have been confined to off-the-floor utterances, but if the subject is introduced into general debate, particularly senate debate, the outlook is one which administration leaders view with some trepidation.

DRY'S ANSWER TO WETS SCHEDULED

Will "Blow Off Lid" Claim
Leaders in Capital;
Get Hearings

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—With senate drys threatening to "blow the lid off" the federal prohibition enforcement regime and house wets claiming they are doing it, congress today faced the session's most bitter row over prohibition scheduled for next week.

Both Senators Norris (R) of Nebraska and Wheeler (D) of Montana were pleading with colleagues for a "preliminary hearing" to show the necessity of adopting their resolutions for a nation-wide investigation of dry law enforcement.

Militant drys, they claimed they would present startling evidence to the senate judiciary committee to justify their proposals.

House wets, having presented witnesses of prominence before the judiciary committee testifying that prohibition enforcement has broken down in city and rural sections alike, were gathering more evidence to be laid before the committee next week.

The insistence of Norris and Wheeler, together with that of many other leading senate drys, indicated the senate judiciary committee may authorize the proposed inquiry on Monday. The Norris resolution apparently was favored over Wheeler's which contained serious charges against the present enforcement regime.

HORST CASE
be taken against Arthur Arnold, who, with his father, Elias, was convicted on charges of child-stealing in connection with Melvin Horst's disappearance and started serving sentences in penal institutions. They were later granted a new trial and were acquitted. Junior Hannah was the state's star witness at the trials of the Arnolds.

LaFolia and Treska have both denied the accusations which Hannah makes in his confession. LaFolia, who is being questioned by Wayne county officials here, admits that he was in Orrville the evening in which Hannah accuses Melvin of snatching over the head with a No. 4, and was paired in a burp sack, but he denies any knowledge of the murder.

Held in Akron
Treska has not been brought to Wooster. He has been grilled by Akron police and Summit county officials at Akron since his arrest there yesterday afternoon.

Hannah declared in his confession that the plot to "get rid of" Melvin was made because those implicated held a grudge against Roy Horst, Melvin's uncle, who was then marshal of Orrville. Marshal Horst, Hannah said in the confession, had been watching the bootleg activities of the men. They were under the impression that Melvin was a son of Roy Horst.

Mrs. Hannah, the confessed killer's wife, has denied that she knew anything about the murder, and further declared that if her husband was a bootlegger, she knew nothing of it. She asserted she believed Hannah was not telling the truth.

Prosecutor Marion Graven and his assistants in the investigation are not satisfied with the long, detailed confession which Hannah gave them Wednesday evening, and further questioning of him regarding the disposal of the body has been in progress since last yesterday afternoon.

Hannah insists that he placed the sack containing the boy's limp body in the rumble seat of LaFolia's automobile and declares that he has never seen the boy or his body since. LaFolia, Hannah said, never told him what was done with the body.

FOOD PRICES IN NATION FALLING

Many Cities Report Drop
In Costs; Others Are Remaining Same

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Retail food prices are coming down. Returns to the department of labor today indicated there was a decrease of slightly more than 1 1/2 per cent decline in January from December prices. However, there has been an increase of about one-half of one percent since January a year ago.

The heaviest declines during the month included "strictly" fresh eggs, 12 per cent; butter 9 per cent; coffee, 5 per cent; navy beans, 3 per cent and lard, 2 per cent.

Of the 17 food articles that increased in price during the month, cabbage topped the list with a 16 per cent increase over December prices. Oranges increased 8 per cent; leg lamb, 4 per cent; pork chops and potatoes, 3 per cent; hens and onions, 2 per cent. Such articles as rib and chuck roast, plate beef, canned tomatoes and prunes increased 1 per cent.

The following cities reported a decrease in the average cost of food during January: Bridgeport, 4 per cent; Denver, Louisville, Newark, New Haven, New York, Philadelphia, Portland, Ore., Salt Lake City, Scranton and Seattle, 3 per cent; Boston, Buffalo, Charleston, S. C., Chicago, Cincinnati, Columbus, Dallas, Fall River, Houston, Indianapolis, New Orleans, Norfolk, Pittsburgh, Providence, Rochester and Savannah, 2 per cent.

A decrease of one per cent was reported by Atlanta, Baltimore, Birmingham, Detroit, Jacksonville, Fla., Kansas City, Little Rock, Los Angeles, Manchester, Memphis, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Mobile, Peoria, Portland, Me., Richmond, St. Louis, St. Paul, San Francisco, Springfield, Ill., and Washington. Cleveland and Omaha reported a decrease of less than five-tenths of one per cent.

Prize Winner

"Lavada suffered from constipation," says Mrs. Rose Temple, 5883 Pearl Road, Cleveland. "She was pale and bilious; didn't have any appetite; couldn't digest her food." "California Fig Syrup has changed all that. It regulated her bowels quickly; improved her appetite and digestion. She has improved right along until friends say she's a regular prize-winner for health."

Mothers by thousands praise California Fig Syrup. Physicians endorse it. Its rich, fruity flavor appeals to children; its pure vegetable goodness is safe for any child. The prompt relief it brings bilious, head-achy, constipated children lasts; because it helps tone and strengthen bowels and stomach. Next time bad breath, coated tongue or feverishness warn of constipation, try it with your child and see how it helps!

When buying, look for the name California! That marks the genuine, famous fig 50 years. Adv.

HOME-MAKING HELPS

By Wanda Barton

Tolerant laughter greeted an art exhibition a few years ago, when some extremists in the modern movement showed what could be done with curious materials. On display were pictures and sculptures, many of which bore a striking likeness to the objects they were supposed to depict. But, instead of the usual mediums of the painter and the sculptor, they used everything else. Glass and metal were artfully combined to portray a certain celebrity. Wood was used, but not carved in the conventional way—it was modeled with splinters and some startling results were obtained in still life and landscapes suggested by a combination of wood, straw, bits of cloth, metal and glass.

But, whether that exhibition was taken seriously or not, the fact is that the ideas have penetrated since

"Konjola First Medicine That Benefited Me"

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute To Master Medicine That Ended Severe Complications

MRS. MARY S. WHITACRE

"Konjola was the first medicine that benefited me, and I fully realize that it is, indeed, the master medicine of them all," says Mrs. Mary S. Whitacre, Box 84, Newtown, a short distance from Cincinnati. "My stomach was disordered. I failed to relish any food. I lost all energy and strength. My liver was torpid and sluggish, bringing on terrible dizzy spells. Then rheumatism developed in my joints and muscles. They were stiff, and awful sore. In fact, I was merely existing, not living."

"I couldn't find a medicine to help me, and naturally, I had no faith in Konjola when it was recommended. But when something had to be done I decided to try it. What a surprise this medicine had in store for me! Konjola went right to work; reached the source of my ailments, drove out the poisons and regulated my organs. Rheumatic pains are gone, and I feel fine. Do you wonder that I praise Konjola?"

Konjola is sold in Salem at all J. H. Lease drug stores and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

COLUMBIANA

The Columbiana high school auditorium was crowded Tuesday evening, when families and friends of the pupils of the first six grades of the Columbiana schools enjoyed every minute of an excellent entertainment, directed by the teachers.

On account of the prevalence of the measles in the first grade room taught by Miss Nellie Koch, the part arranged for her pupils was postponed until March 14, when it will be given in connection with the operetta, "Bits O' Blarney," presented by the seventh and eighth grade pupils.

The school orchestra under the direction of Miss Gertrude Roe gave fine music between the parts of the entertainment. Tuesday evening, Miss Roe also served as pianist and accompanist during the evening.

One of the hits was made by Andy Andrich and Gerald and Willis Lesher, who delighted the audience with several numbers played on piano accordions, mouth organs and Jews harp.

The first part of the program was a playlet, "The Pumpkin Tree," presented by the first grade pupils of Miss Sara Wilson. The principal parts were well taken by Edith Newell, Waldo Schlag and Paul Strank. The second part, called "Elta Ket and the Gocps," was given by the second and third grade students, taught by the Misses Sparkle Lutzmeier and Mildred Mowen. Mother Goose characters were used in this play, the leading parts being exceptionally well taken care of by Mary Marjorie Hepburn, Jane Detwiler and Ellen Esterly.

Special numbers by Helen Simpson, Clyde Maurer, Vilda Buchner and Ralph Warner were especially pleasing. The two-act operetta, "Molly Be Jolly," was then offered by the pupils of the fourth, fifth and sixth grades, taught by the Misses Doris Walker, Lois Roller, Virginia Shively and Alberta Windle. The scenes were in the interior of a barn, where the children were having a circus and the musical numbers were especially tuneful. The principal parts were most ably taken by Caroline Hoffman, Robert Todd, Samuel Lindsay, Ruth Wilson, Gerald Lesher, Eugene Hester, Harold Hart and Doris Hum. Janet Rempkenberger and Elizabeth Shaffer pleased with a fancy dance number, while Maxia Gruber, Grace Slick, Virginia Heim, Kathryn Fuhrman and Marjorie McCall pleased with clever acrobatic numbers given during the circus rehearsal.

The Sorosis society met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. L. J. Garrard, South Main st. and in evening was spent discussing the subject, "Antique." GIRL TO MISS SLAYER OF 9

Claims Killer Made Life Pleasant During His Stay On Farm

DETROIT, Feb. 21.—While James Baker, self-confessed alleged slayer of nine, was waiting for New York authorities to prepare extradition papers for his return there to face charges for the killing of a nightwatchman, Eleanor Roy, 17-year-old girl to whom Baker had offered to marry, today was preparing to depart for a companion who, she says, "made life pleasant for her for 10 months."

Eleanor is the daughter of Newton Roy, on whose farm Bakerien worked and where he was arrested Wednesday night.

"I can't help but feel sorry for him, even if he is as bad as he admits," Eleanor said mournfully.

"He made life pleasant for me for 10 months, because he was always ready to do anything I wanted, and I tried to be out doors with him."

"I'd rather help with the outside farm work than wash dishes and do other house work, and Jimmy was always an excuse for me getting out of being cooped up indoors."

Youngest Mannequin Is 5-Year-Old Boy

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The youngest mannequin in Paris is the five-year-old son of a smart tailor on the Boulevards who uses the little fellow as a good advertising medium.

Every other day he appears in a different suit and on very cold days they are completed by a sweater and ultra-fashionable overcoat. His smart little trousers, carefully creased, are a splendid fit and his coat and waistcoat a marvel of cut. His clothes call for much comment on the skill of his father-tailor.

LEGION PLAY

First showing of the Charles H. Carey post, American Legion, farce drama, "A Trip To Paris" was held at the Grand theater before a large audience Thursday night. Capacity attendance is expected at the second and final showing of the play tonight.

The drama is being sponsored by the legion post as a benefit affair to raise funds for the purchase of equipment for the proposed drum and bugle corps now being organized by legionnaires in its Boy Scout troop.

All of the famous characters that participated in the 1927 American Legion convention to Paris are shown in the picture, including the Gump family, the Prince of Wales, Smith Brothers, Aimee McPherson, Peaches Browning and her mother, Graham McNamee, Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Sophie Tucker, the Duncan sisters and many others.

"FLIGHT"

The spectacle of rapid fire machine guns and the roar of air-planes caused by the Columbia company on location in San Diego during the production of the all-talking aviation film, "Flight," now playing at the State theater, gave the San Diegoans a good scare until they found out what it was all about. The sounds, indicative of battle in progress, led them to believe that war had again broken out across the border in Mexico.

Upon investigation it was discovered that the bloody battle was being fought for "Flight," and that the mangled, bleeding mass of humanity which carried on the battle was a group of actors, none of whom were actually being shot despite the fact that the blood was streaming down their faces. So complete is every detail was the skirmish that the Marine officers, who had come down from the army base to watch the battle, were startled by the remarkable accuracy of the maneuvers.

The principals in this aviation attraction are Jack Holt, Lila Lee and Ralph Graves. Ralph R. Capra directed.

Jury Indicts Man On Payroll Count

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 21.—Charged on 17 counts with padding the pay-rolls of the state highway depart-ment, J. C. Reiff, former road supervisor, had been secretly indicted by the Crawford county grand jury here today.

He will be arraigned Wednesday. The irregularities with which Reiff is charged were discovered by State Examiner J. S. Martin, who made a special examination of road maintenance payrolls here several weeks ago.

Martin charged Reiff with padding six payrolls and 11 checks, for a total of $374.

McArtor Florists Win Fifth Straight Class A League Battle

League-Leaders Trim United Cigars, 37-23 In Hard Fought Duel

McArtor Florists clinched titular honors for the second half in Salem's Class A basketball league, handing the United Cigars a 37-23 setback in a hard-fought cage tussle at Memorial gymnasium Thursday night.

With each of the six Posies who saw action in the game breaking into the scoring to the extent of at least one point, the Cigars were outclassed despite a valiant first half stand in which they played the winners to a 14-10 game.

The same third-quarter spirit that brought the florists to a sensational victory over the Golden Eagle last week was the real factor in their triumph over the tobies, for

Abundance Of Prosperity In Store For 1930 Baseball Season; Interest In Game At Peak

National President Gives Annual Statement On Game's Status

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—Bye and bye, hard times may come knocking at the door but President John A. Heydler sees only a year of abundance and great yield ahead for the national league and, ostensibly for baseball in general. In fact, he foresees the impending league race as the greatest, financially, of them all and, competitively, as the best the last ten years have known. The last ten, it might be added, have seen few years that were superior in this respect.

President Heydler vouchsafed his declarations in a statement, especially prepared for the International News Service and issued through his headquarters today. He left town several days ago and is vacationing at the moment somewhere in the Carolinas.

As a prelude, he pointed out that baseball, regardless of the variety of its appeal, was essentially the poor man's game in its cost to the public and, therefore, was less susceptible to charging conditions in the business world than any other sport. Public interest, said he, it effect, was the barometer by which it judged its future—not the whimsicalities of Wall street.

Interest High

"Every sign today points to an interest that is heightened beyond anything I have known in my long experience with the game," the statement declared. "I am especially glad to note the revived interest among eastern colleges in the national game, for this interest will be reflected in the attendance not only at college games but at professional games, as well. I have no hesitancy, in any case, in predicting our best season of all time."

"As for the National league, I truly believe that it has attained its best balance in playing strength, from top to bottom, of the last ten years."

This, it may be said by way of amplification, is one of Heydler's statements that will stand unchallenged. The National league may win the handless catcher's glove for its record in recent world series but there is no use arguing with the fact that it has assembled all of the ingredients of a baseball race. Whereas, the American league, facing the fact that the Athletics completely stole the show last year, isn't quite certain whether it will find itself sponsoring a race or a rabbit hunt.

Only One Worry

Heydler's league, as a matter of fact, has only one worry and this has to do with the old army game, whereby six peas are to be fitted into four pods, a simple matter when you know how.

It is so simple that men who tried it have been known to stay that way for the rest of their lives. Any-

Condition of Dry Agent Is Improved

BELLAIRE, O., Feb. 21.—The condition of Guy Casina, 37, undercover agent for the state prohibition department, who was wounded twice Tuesday night, was reported improved here today by hospital physicians.

Casina was fired upon when he was returning to his home. The shots were fired from ambush, he said.

Belmont county officials declared they believe the shooting was done by an alleged bootlegger against whom Casina testified following a recent "cleanup" raid here.

Columbus Man Hit By Auto; Killed

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 21.—The 1930 traffic toll continued to mount here today with the death of Michael Jordan, 45, who was fatally injured last night when he stepped into the path of an automobile, which was driven by S. L. Hall, while attempting to cross a downtown street intersection.

He died in a police ambulance enroute to White Cross hospital. Physicians said his skull was fractured.

Hall was absolved of all blame in the death.

WHAT GLORIOUS RELIEF OWA-TON-NA BRINGS!

Kidney, Liver and Stomach Disorders Caused 15 Years of Suffering

MRS. EMMA DULABAHN

Daily new users of this endorsement to the thousands who have already endorsed this fine old Indian remedy in kidney, liver, stomach and intestinal disorders, rheumatism, neuritis, nervousness and a general rundown condition of health. Mrs. Emma Dulabahn, 609 4th St., N. E. Canton, Ohio, recently told us Owa-Ton-Na corrected her kidney, liver, stomach and intestinal disorders of 15 years' standing.

She says: "It certainly is wonderful to be able to find a remedy which would correct disorders which no end of other treatments failed to relieve. I can not remember the time when I felt as good as I do now. Once again I can enjoy a good meal for my appetite is wonderful and foods do not distress me and cause indigestion the way it has for so many years."

"Constipation and dizzy spells made life miserable. The pains across my back made me feel as though I was carrying a heavy load and I would hardly be up an hour in the morning before I felt tired. My kidneys were not acting right, and as I knew this was a dangerous sign, I was greatly worried about my condition. Owa-Ton-Na right from the start showed me that I had at last found the right remedy. Almost each day I could notice improvement until now I again feel like my former self."

Let Owa-Ton-Na prove its worth to you by giving it a trial today. It is sold in Salem at Flogging's, Bolger & French and J. H. Lease Drug Stores.—Adv.

THE BIRD ON NELLIE'S HAT

"You don't know Nellie like I do," chirped the naughty little bird of Nellie's hat—from a popular tune of the Eighties. However, if the little birdie really had been able to chirp, it probably would have complained against the twelve-inch hat pins the Salem belle of that time wore.
